

ERICH-BRACHER-SCHULE
KORNWESTHEIM-PATTONVILLE

We would like to introduce our school to you to give you a quick overview of who we are and what we do at Erich-Bracher-Schule.

Who we are: we are a middle-sized vocational business school with almost 90 teachers and more than 1,850 students (part-time and full-time) as well as other faculty staff such as social workers and special education teachers

Where we are: our school is situated in Kornwestheim-Pattonville near Ludwigsburg, the school moved into the former US high school building in 1996 and was named after Erich Bracher in 1998. Erich Bracher was the head of local Mann und Hummel GmbH, as well as Vice President of the local Chamber of Commerce. Throughout his lifetime he supported education and was a great benefactor to our school.

What we offer:

- a vocational school for six different apprenticeships in the economic sector (Kaufmännische Berufsschule)
- a vocational college (Berufskolleg)
- a three year vocational upper secondary school (Wirtschaftsgymnasium),
- VABO (Vorqualifizierung Arbeit und Beruf)
